

Oliver Rapf

Oliver Rapf is an Executive Director of the Buildings Performance Institute Europe. Before joining BPIE, Oliver Rapf worked for the global conservation organization WWF in various roles. Most recently he was Head of the Climate Business Engagement unit of WWF International, managing strategy and partnership development with the private sector. Leading an international team, he advised multinational companies on climate change and energy issues. Oliver's experience in buildings efficiency goes back to the late 90s when he was a project leader for several deep renovation projects on behalf of WWF in cooperation with housing companies across Germany. Other roles include the position of deputy Head of WWF's European Climate Change and Energy Policy Unit. Oliver participated in UNFCCC negotiations, and was the leader of the German NGO coalition at international climate change negotiations. Oliver has been active as a jury member of environmental business awards, and serves on private sector environmental advisory boards. In his early career, he worked on regional sustainability strategies and spatial planning.